

NORTHWEST TERRITORIES FACILITY-BASED ADDICTIONS TREATMENT REFERRAL PROCESS GUIDE

Forms are located here: <https://www.hss.gov.nt.ca/professionals/en/services/forms/mental-health-and-addictions>

1.	COMPLETE ASSESSMENT	The case manager* must assess the service user to ensure that facility-based addictions treatment is the most appropriate option for treatment. The referral source will assess the service-user’s readiness for treatment and discuss options including peer support (i.e. AA, NA), counselling services offered in the community and region, electronic based options like apps and self-help, and on the land healing programs. The individual seeking facility-based treatment must have a valid NWT health care card, and valid identification that meets Transport Canada’s requirements to board a flight within Canada. Both must be valid for the entire treatment period. Please ensure these are in place and if not, assist the service-user with securing these right away. Transport Canada’s requirements for ID can be found here: https://travel.gc.ca/air/identification-requirements * The case manager should meet with the service-user enough times to determine treatment readiness.
